

No notification has been sent to WA residents, but we could not submit this form without filling in this information.

Western Washing University (and other colleges/universities in the state) are waiting for more detailed information from the National Student Clearinghouse and TIAA (and other vendors – United Healthcare in some cases) of the type and number of confidential/sensitive data they are responsible for releasing.