Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

As the Chief Privacy Officer for the Providence family of organizations, I am writing to follow up on information mailed to you in October 2025 about a data privacy event at Kadlec Clinic, 945 Goethals Dr., Suite 210, Richland, WA 99352, involving some of your personal information. Details about the breach are included below. It is a privilege to care for our patients, and we take their privacy very seriously.

Further steps you can take

We have received no indication that your personal information has been further used or disclosed. However, we are providing you with the contact information for the major credit reporting agencies, in accordance with Washington State law. You're encouraged to remain vigilant against potential fraud and/or identity theft by, among other things, reviewing your account statement and monitoring credit reports closely. Reach out to your financial institution or account holder if you notice any suspicious activity. In addition, report fraudulent activity or suspected identity theft activity to relevant law enforcement – which may include the police, your state's attorney general and/or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Contacting credit reporting agencies

Following is contact information for the three national credit reporting agencies, where you can request a copy of your credit report or get more information, including more about fraud alerts and placing a security freeze on your credit files:

IMPORTANT NOTE: The information below is a copy of what was mailed to you in October 2025. If you received and reviewed this information previously, you may disregard.

What Happened?

On August 19, 2025, letters were mailed to the patients of Kadlec Clinic notifying them of the clinic's permanent closure. A technical error during printing and mailing resulted in some patients receiving an envelope containing their address but the name of another patient.

What information was disclosed?

The letter included information about scheduling and continuation of your care regarding the closure of the clinic. The first, middle and last names of some patients and the name of their providers and clinic name were included in the mailing. As a result, another patient may have received a mailer addressed to you in error, and you may have received a mailer with someone else's name. Neither envelope nor the enclosed letter contained any other personal information.

How did this happen?

During the printing process, a technical error occurred when configuring information resulting in a mix-up of patient names and addresses. This error was discovered on August 22, 2025.

What is Providence and Kadlec Clinic doing about it?

We conducted a thorough review to understand how this happened and to ensure that precautions are being taken to prevent it from happening again. We have no reason to believe this error resulted in any information being misused, but we are notifying patients to be transparent and out of an abundance of caution.

Where can I get more information?

For further information and assistance, please call IDX at 1-833-788-9712. IDX representatives are available Monday through Friday, 6 a.m. - 6 p.m. Pacific Time.

Sincerely,

Cambria Haydon, Chief Privacy Officer, Providence
