Re: Notice of Data Event

Dear Sir or Madam:

We represent Aveanna Healthcare (“Aveanna”), 400 Interstate North Parkway SE, Suite 1600, Atlanta, GA 30339. We write to notify you of a recent incident that may affect the security of the personal information of two thousand four hundred and forty-four (2,444) Washington residents. By providing this notice, Aveanna does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Washington law or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

Beginning on August 24, 2019, Aveanna became aware of suspicious activity relating to a number of its employee email accounts. Aveanna took steps to secure the email accounts and began working with outside computer forensics specialists to determine the nature and scope of the activity. The investigation determined that an unknown actor accessed certain employee email accounts between July 9, 2019 and August 24, 2019. Unfortunately, the investigation did not reveal if any email or attachment was actually accessed or viewed.

In an abundance of caution and with the assistance of third-party specialists, a comprehensive review of the contents of the impacted email accounts was performed to identify any personal information that could have potentially been viewed or acquired by the intruder. Once this exhaustive review was complete, we next worked diligently to confirm the identity of the impacted individuals to whom that information related and their address. The investigation recently concluded, and Aveanna is providing notice to individuals whose personal information may have been accessible.

Although the type of personal information potentially impacted may vary by individuals, Aveanna confirmed that the following types of personal information relating to two thousand four hundred and forty-four (2,444) Washington residents were present within impacted email accounts: Social Security number, driver's license or state ID, and bank or financial account number.

Notice to Washington Residents

Aveanna began mailing written notice to potentially affected individuals, which includes two thousand four hundred and forty-four (2,444) Washington residents, on or about February 14, 2020. Notice was provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and to Be Taken

Upon discovering the incident, Aveanna moved quickly to determine its nature and scope. Aveanna identified the individuals who may be affected by the incident, put resources in place to assist them, and provided them with notice.

Aveanna is providing all potentially affected individuals with complimentary access to twelve (12) months of credit monitoring and identity restoration services through TransUnion. Additionally, Aveanna is providing potentially impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

While Aveanna had security measures in place to protect information in its care, it also took steps to implement additional safeguards and review company policies and procedures in order to ensure it protects the security of information on its systems. Specifically, Aveanna immediately changed the credentials for the involved email accounts and has since implemented additional security measures for employee email accounts and access to company systems including multi-factor authentication.

Aveanna is providing notice of this incident to other state and federal regulators, including the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the three major credit reporting agencies, as required.

You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of your credit report.

You have the right to place a “security freeze” on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization. The security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a security freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a security freeze on your credit report. Should you wish to place a security freeze, please contact the major consumer reporting agencies listed below:

Product Information

Equifax Child Identity Monitoring will scan the Equifax credit database for any instances of the minor's social security number and look for a copy of the minor's Equifax credit file.

- If no SSN match is found and no Equifax credit file exists, Equifax will create an Equifax credit file in the minor's name and immediately "lock" the Equifax credit file. This will prevent access to the minor's Equifax credit file in the future. If Equifax receives a request for your minor's Equifax credit report, you will receive an email alert.
- If there is a match and an Equifax credit file exists, Equifax will immediately "lock" the file and alert you to activity against the file, such as an attempt to open a new line of credit.
- The minor's Equifax credit file will be locked for 12 months from date of activation. After that time, the minor's Equifax credit file will be deleted from our credit database if it contains no credit data.

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

To further protect against possible identity theft or other financial loss, we encourage you to remain vigilant, to review your loved one's account statements, and to monitor his or her credit reports for suspicious activity. Under U.S. law, you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit bureaus. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of your credit report.

We recommend contacting the three credit reporting agencies listed below to discuss your particular situation and obtain specific guidance. Once you establish a relationship with the credit reporting agency and verify your authorization to make a request on behalf of your loved one, you can request a copy of your loved one's credit report. A review of the credit report will let you know of any active credit accounts that still need to be closed or any pending collection notices. Be sure to ask for all contact information on accounts currently open in your loved one's name (credit grantors, collection agencies, etc.) so that you can follow through with these entities.

Contact information for the three consumer reporting agencies is listed below.

Experian P.O. Box 9554 Allen TX 75013 1-888-397-3742 www.experian.com	TransUnion P.O. Box 2000 Chester, PA 19016 1-800-680-7289 www.transunion.com	Equifax P.O. Box 105069 Atlanta, GA 30348 1-888-766-0008 www.equifax.com

You can also request, in writing, that the report list the following alert:

“Deceased. Do not issue credit. If an application is made for credit, notify the following person(s) immediately: (list yourself, and/or another authorized relative, and/or executor/trustee of the estate—noting the relationship of any individual listed to your family member—and/or a law enforcement agency).”

In most cases, this flag will prevent the opening of new credit accounts in your loved one's name. You can also contact the IRS at www.irs.gov/Individuals/Identity-Protection or <https://www.irs.gov/uac/Taxpayer-Guide-to-Identity-Theft> for helpful information and guidance on steps you can take to prevent a fraudulent tax return from being filed in your loved one's name and what to do if your loved one's identity becomes subject to such fraud.

You can further educate yourself regarding identity theft, fraud alerts and security freezes, and the steps you can take to protect your loved one, by contacting the Federal Trade Commission or your state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission can be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a crime report or incident report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide some kind of proof that you have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement.

For North Carolina residents, the Attorney General can be contacted at 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-9001, 1-877-566-7226 or 1-919-716-6000, www.ncdoj.gov. You can obtain information from the Attorney General or the Federal Trade Commission about preventing identity theft.
