ProductTestPanel.com

program administered by Consumer Research Corporation

existing member login:
enter your email address

ProductTestPanel.com was started in 2004 to bring two exciting, yet previously distinct, offerings to consumers in one package: The chance to evaluate free products and the ability to receive free gifts for trying services consumers use every day. What resulted was nothing less than an online phenomenon. Now, over 3 years later, ProductTestPanel.com still stands above its many imitators as the leader in reliability, customer service and exciting new promotions.

If you are interested in becoming a member of ProductTestPanel.com we invite you to participate in any of the new member incentive promotions listed below.

Membership is free and you will never be required to pay for evaluation products. Remember, as a new member, you are guaranteed to receive at least three products to review within your first 90 days of membership. All we ask is that you complete a short user survey and the products are yours to keep, free of charge.

NOTE: You are not required to participate in a new member incentive promotion in order to become a ProductTestPanel.com member. If you wish to register without participating in a new member incentive promotion, click here.
